Subject: More data on Animas please

Hi Libby,

Jonathan Thompson from High Country News, here (but based in Durango). I've been covering the Animas River Spill, and would really like to see more recent water quality data than what you've got posted. The numbers currently posted are for before the plume even reached Durango. I know that these tests take time, but not that much time. The slowness of data release is causing a lot of frustration around these parts, just so you know.

Thanks,

Jonathan Thompson
